THE Hongkong Telegraph.

HONGKONG, 4TH JULY, 1881.

Hongkong is evidently in a bad way. From the oft-repeated utterances of the local press on what are popularly supposed to be the leading questions of the day, the hour of terrible retribution for past errors, neglect, and misgovernment generally, must be closer at hand than the well informed seem to have any idea of. Since the arrival of Governor Hennessy in this unfortunate island nothing has gone right; but everything, affecting the best interests and general well-being of the colony at large, has been permitted to go to wreck and ruin—at least, the China Mail says so, and our contemporary certainly speaks with the confident air of one inspired. And yet the sweeping assertions which have been made from time to time, that Sir John Pope Hennessy's régime has from the beginning been one long-continued chapter of blundering and bungling, in every matter which he has handled—do not appear to have caused any uneasiness, or excited any extraordinary commotion at the Colonial Office in London. Is it not possible that our contemporaries have gone rather too far in their policy of consistent opposition to each and every act of our present Governor? Whether such be the case or not, time will show; but it cannot be denied that, up to the present, they have signally failed to achieve the attainment of even the smallest of their aims. It seems to the outer world so utterly incredible that the Government of a British Colony should always be in the wrong; and it is indisputable that no matter what the Head of the Executive has said or done, censure from the press has been sure to follow in no measured terms. People will talk, and it has been currently reported and believed that all this vindictive opposition must not be attributed to a regard for the public interests alone; but that other motives of a private character have had a good deal to do with it. On a question of this nature we do not care to hazard an opinion; but we do most emphatically say that the course adopted lately by both the old established local journals, with reference to Sir John Hennessy's policy, has been unfair, unjustifiable, and discreditable to all concerned. We have at present on our files several matters of importance on which we differ with the Governor, and at the first favorable opportunity, our views on these differences will be expressed in unmistakable terms; but we are not blind to the fact that even the most serious differences of opinion on political subjects can never justify systematic abuse, and therefore feel perfectly certain that, by constantly studying the dignity of the press, and the many interests it is supposed honestly to represent, in any discussion affecting public rights and interests, we shall meet with universal approbation.

For the latest indignity to which the public press of Hongkong has subjected the colony and its inhabitants, the China Mail is responsible, for publishing in its issue of the 1st inst. a letter headed "The Press in Crown Colonies," and signed "A Straits Journalist." That any newspaper, with a past history like that of our contemporary, should betray such an utter disregard, not merely for the material interests of the colony to which it owes its existence, but for every principle of honor, justice, and journalistic law, as to give publicity to such a contemptibly scandalous farrago of abusive nonsense, well nigh passes comprehension. Such a faux pas can only be explained in one way, and we leave our readers to solve the problem as they think best; but the same reticence need not be observed with "A Straits Journalist," whose communication will now receive our utmost consideration.

Nemo mortalium omnibus horis sapit and it must have been in one of his very mad hours, that the so-called "Journalist" was so weak as to leave his self-imposed retirement in the Straits, to expose, under false colors, his well known prejudiced and distorted opinions, to those who know him so well. We propose, for the sake of regularity, to treat this gentleman on his own assertion that he is "A Straits Journalist," although we are perfectly well assured that he has no claim to the title. It will not be difficult to gauge from his own statements what just claims he has advanced either to be considered a journalist, or an honest and competent critic of Hongkong affairs. After taking him at his own estimated value, it is only fair that we should also appraise him from our point of view, and we shall then be in a position to understand why the letter was written, and—what is equally to the point—why it was published.

The communication is dated "Penang, 10th June," and commences in this fashion:—"Sir, may I be permitted to trespass on your columns in order to express a few random thoughts on a subject which ought to be of some interest to the community of the colony of Hongkong." Not a bad beginning, we admit, although the phraseology is the reverse of journalistic, and bears an uncommonly strong resemblance to those official utterances which usually begin and end with "I have the honor." The next step is a backward one, and the sapient journalist, calling in the aid of a handy work of reference, proceeds to tell us, as a bit of important news, what Junius wrote upwards of a century ago. "Let it be impressed upon your minds, let it be instilled into your children, that the liberty of the press is the palladium of all the civil, political, and religious rights of an Englishman." We are then favored with another refreshing piece of latest intelligence about Junius, who according to the Journalist's reference work, was and is still a mystery, although according "to Lord Macaulay and others, the evidence is strongly in favor of Sir Philip Francis being the real Simon Pure." Our friend's works of reference must be rather ancient for a modern journalist, so we will give him some information about the mysterious one, which he evidently knows nothing about. Mr. Charles Chabot, the well-known expert in handwriting, published a book in 1871, entitled "The handwriting of Junius professionally investigated," with the object of proving that Sir Philip Francis was the author of the celebrated letters. If "A Straits Journalist" will kindly refer to the Times of May 22nd 1871, he will find a convincing series of arguments against Mr. Chabot's theories. Further, it is on record that Mr. Pitt told Lord Aberdeen that he knew who wrote the Junius Letters, and it was not Francis; and that Lady Grenville wrote to the editor of Diaries of a Lady of Quality to the same effect.

The China Mail correspondent then introduces another celebrity of a bye gone age, in the person of John Wilkes, and after graciously remarking that most of his readers are probably aware who John Wilkes was, proceeds to demolish that worthy in trenchant style. John Wilkes may be what the Journalist calls "a scapegoat," as he certainly was a leading spirit in the "Liberty" cry of 1804; but what in the name of all that's wonderful does the Straits man mean by the following sentence:—"By his bold, vigorous writings in the North Briton he materially aided, that which Milton's Areopagitica grand and magnificent as it was and is, in no way helped on—the liberty of the Press, to which the failure of the trial of Rev. v. Woodfall for publishing Junius's letter to the King put the finishing stroke."

Here is, according to his own showing, A Straits Journalist's locus standi for constituting himself an experienced and impartial critic of Hongkong affairs. "Separated as I am from Hongkong and having no data to go by other than those gleaned during a prolonged residence in the colony some years ago, but which have been amended and increased by a constant perusal of your columns and those of your contemporary." This man, who says he has not been in Hongkong for many years, and whose information respecting our goings has been gleaned from the pages of newspapers avowedly hostile to the present Government, presumes to set himself up as an authority on our public affairs, and is actually supported and bolstered up by the print of which he is apparently an accredited agent.

Either he lies grossly, or his shameful attack on the Governor of this Colony is dictated by personal motives. We have neither time nor space to follow the stale platitudes of this so-called journalist in his bogus attack on the Colonial Press. A more feeble exhibition of newspaper writing we have rarely come across, in fact take away the quotations from Junius and Stuart Mill, (apparently the only two books at the journalist's disposal), and nothing remains but common place inconsistent cant, and vulgar abuse. "The Press in Crown Colonies" is a lame excuse for the following extraordinary judgment, of a man who publicly states that he has not been in Hongkong for some years.

"During the past few years, how have you fared in Hongkong under the eccentric reign of Governor Hennessy? As far as I can judge, there has been a wholesale system of meddling and muddling, blundering and plundering; almost every Department has been turned upside down and inside out? Heads of Departments have been at loggerheads one with another, and subordinates have had to undertake the somewhat novel task of reporting confidentially on their superiors. Concerning the manner which the "leading Chinese" have been potted and pampered I need say nothing. The thing speaks for itself, and is in every respect worthy of Sir John Pope Hennessy."

But what, all this time, has been the attitude of the Hongkong Press! You, to your honour be it spoken, have never flinched—never spoken with an uncertain sound. Your estimate of Governor Hennessy and all his works is a true one, and whether it be fully endorsed in Hongkong, or not, I feel sure it is so elsewhere by all those who have had the good or bad fortune of making the acquaintance of your present philo-Chinese ruler."

Are we to assume that the China Mail accepted the fulsome gush—"You, to your honour be it spoken—have never flinched—never spoken with an uncertain sound"—as a quid pro quo for publishing the disgraceful slander conveyed on the Government, and on the heads of every one of the public departments, in the sentence referring to—"meddling, muddling, blundering, and plundering."

Place for the "Straits Journalist" once more:—

"But what of your morning contemporary? Has he pursued the same fearless line of conduct that you have? I am afraid not. I fear, on the other hand, that he has often thought it necessary to trim and prune. It is rather a difficult task to hold with the hare and run with the hounds, but I must award him the merit of having attempted, although he has certainly failed, to accomplish the feat."

The only data this person had to rely on as to the course of events in Hongkong, was a constant perusal of the columns of the two local papers. Can there be any doubt in the minds of honest men as to which of the two prints, a journalist, or any other man, would accept as the more reliable? Is there any doubt that the reports of current events in the Daily Press have for years been more complete and more impartial, than those in the China Mail? Why then should "A Straits Journalist," without knowing anything personally of our political affairs, honor the China Mail for systematically abusing and vilifying the Governor and his supporters, and sneer at the Daily Press for having been an impartial chronicler of public proceedings?

And now for another new phase of modern journalism. About a fortnight ago the Daily Press came out in a new rôle. Leading articles, rivalling in scurrility and vituperation the most choice selections of the evening print—emanating only too apparently from other pens than that of the worthy gentleman who directs the destinies of the Press, appeared in the morning paper, and they have been continued up to this date. The China Mail in view of this sudden change of tactics on the part of its rival, and remembering that with a third newspaper in the field, unity between the two old ones, was an absolute necessity; if the "Telegraph" was to be extinguished, deemed it advisable to treat its neighbour to a little "butter," as the amende honorable for the "journalist's" attack, in the following style:—

"In reference to what is said here regarding our contemporary of the Press, it must in fairness be explained that our correspondent could not have seen the file, containing the vigorous and plain-spoken Press articles of ten or twelve days ago, when he penned the above letter.—Ed. C.M."

If this coarse and clumsy apology satisfies the Daily Press, we have no reason to complain, although we should imagine that our morning contemporary will smile at such a transparent dodge.

"Honesty is the best policy" is a somewhat strange doctrine to come from such a person as this self-styled

"Straits Journalist"; and as the "journalist" farce is completely played out on the man's own showing, we shall now devote a few lines in trying to prove that this latest claimant has not yet taken the "scissors and paste" degree; that in fact, he is a shallow impostor. We would refer our readers to a controversy which occupied the pages of the Daily Press from the 14th to the 22nd August 1879, on the question of the celebrated "Marie Louise" case.

The disputants were "Lusitano" and "Arragon," the former, the writer of these lines, who advocated the claims of Mr. Field, the latter, a subordinate official in one of the Government departments, who, without defending the action of the Manila Government, combated the arguments advanced in a style of invective fortunately rare in the annals of anonymous journalism, and with a rancour which could only arise from personal animus. "Arragon," who on that occasion asserted he was a true Spaniard, although all the respectable gentlemen belonging to that nation, at the time resident in Hongkong, disowned his claim, is none other than our "Straits Journalist." Any one who has the slightest doubt on the subject, has only to compare the effusion in the China Mail of the 1st inst. with the productions signed "Arragon" in the Daily Press on the 14th and 21st August 1879, and on various other occasions during last year; also with a series of letters in the same journal, written by a supposed "Central Schoolboy," to have no difficulty whatever in coming to the conclusion that "A Central Schoolboy" alias "Arragon" alias "A Straits Journalist" is one and the same person.

Need we dwell further on what is palpably a prostitution of legitimate journalism? We think not, nor should we have devoted so much valuable space to the subject, had we not wished to open the eyes of the community to the real value of many so-called independent and impartial utterances, and to place on record our protest against the columns of any public print being placed at the disposal of every ignoble rascal, who, fancying himself aggrieved, seeks consolation and transitory notoriety by vilifying and abusing, under false pretences, persons who may happen in social, business, or political life to cross his path.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Agent of the P. & O. Company informs us that the steamer Verona, with the next English Mail, left Singapore for Hongkong at noon on Friday, the 1st instant.

We are greatly indebted to "Astronomer" for his poem (?), on the recent vagaries of our friend "The Comet," and regret that the common-place character of the columns of a newspaper like the Telegraph are not sufficiently well adapted for such Homeric strains as to warrant their publication. If our correspondent has any more attacks to the divine afflatus, he might try our poetic contemporary, the China Mail.

The paragraph referring to the recent presentation of a Past Master's Jewel to R. Wor. Bro. T. N. Driscoll, by the members of Lodge St. John, No. 618 S.C., which appeared in Saturday's issue of the China Mail is grossly inaccurate in detail. The vivid imagination of the paragraphist is alone responsible for a good deal of what is stated to have occurred at the Emergency Lodge.

Another very sudden death of an old resident in Hongkong, which occurred yesterday has to be reported. Pastor Klitzke of the German Mission, who was apparently in good health, and able to preach at the usual forenoon service was suddenly seized with paralysis of the heart, and died about 2 o'clock. The funeral will leave the Berlin Foundling House at 4.30 this afternoon.

We regret to hear of the death of Captain Goode, late of Messrs. Douglas LaPraik & Co's Albay, which occurred at Amoy on the 2nd inst. The deceased was very well known in Hongkong and at the Coast Ports, having been running up and down in the Douglas steamer for a number of years, and he will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Capt. Goode had been seriously indisposed for a considerable time, suffering we believe from impaired lungs and an affection of the heart, and it was generally understood when he left the Albay, and placed himself under the care of Dr Manson at Amoy, that his case was hopeless. He was reported greatly improved a short time ago, and his own immediate friends thought it likely he might get through the summer. It was not to be, however, and he gradually sank and expired as above stated, on Saturday last.

We beg to call attention to the sale of very valuable central building ground opposite the Ko Shing Theatre by Messrs. Sharp & Co. at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

By the steamer Arratoon Apear, Captain McConnell, we note the arrival yesterday of a batch of 74 Indian recruits to form B. Company of the Gun Lascar Corps. Authority for the formation of a second company had been obtained some years ago, but some difficulty was experienced in obtaining the requisite number of men in the Colony, and it was only on Lieutenant Fell, R.A., taking the matter vigorously in hand and sending a havidar to India on a term of leave, that the necessary recruits have been obtained. These men are all from the northern provinces of India, and as they average 5 feet 9 inches in height, and are, for Indians of a powerful build, they will no doubt form a valuable addition to the China Gun Lascars. The terms of their enlistment, which has not been perfected until their arrival here, are slightly different from those already serving in A. Company, and we will not be surprised to hear shortly of jealousies arising owing to the different conditions under which the two companies are serving, aided and augmented by caste prejudices.

The sudden death of a single woman named Douglas is reported as having occurred yesterday evening in a house on the Praya-east, to which she had only recently removed from Gage-street. We have not yet learned the direct cause of death, but it is known that deceased has given way to intemperate habits lately and rumour even assigns poison as the agent.

According to latest advices from Macao, His Excellency Governor Graça has determined to hold another public auction of the Wei Sing Lottery Monopoly at an early date, and has declined to entertain any proposals for purchase in the meantime. We have no doubt that, if the sale is properly managed, the price bid at the former auction will be again reached. It is to be hoped however that the conditions of sale will be such as to prevent the possibility of any further troubles in the financial department.

The Chinese high commissioner, whose arrival at Canton has been noticed by one of our contemporaries, is Admiral Peng-yi-liu, the commander-in-chief of the Yang-tze river, and who has been ordered to make a careful inspection of the Southern Coast defences. The Admiral was in Hongkong a few days since. He is a native of the province of Hunan, and is noted for his determination of character. His strong antipathy to Opium Smoking, especially amongst the troops under his command is well-known. A few years since, at Yang-Chow he headed a soldier who was an inveterate smoker as an example to the rest of his forces, and although his vigorous action in slitting the upper lips of offenders from the nose downwards, had no practical effect, as far as we could learn, in suppressing the habit, it certainly had the effect of disfiguring his men, and making them as hideous objects as can well be conceived.

Today is the 105th anniversary of the declaration of Independence of the United States of America, and our American friends are celebrating their annual day of jubilation in the usual time honored fashion. Vessels in the Harbour bearing the "Star spangled banner" are gaily dressed, and the men have, in all cases where practicable, been treated to a holiday. On shore the American firms are, with their usual hospitality, keeping open house for all comers, and generally having a good time. It is expected that a large quantity of whiskey punch will be consumed between mid-day and mid-night. We can vouch for the quality of the Kee-chong brew.

Colonel Horatio H. Morant, half-pay, late 27th Regiment, is about to be promoted to the Major General's list, and will consequently vacate his appointment as Aide-de-camp to the Queen.—Broad Arrow.

From the Government Gazette of the 2nd instant we learn that Mr. Archibald Baird, Principal Lighthouse Keeper, has been granted twelve months leave of absence from the 1st March last, and the following temporary and provisional appointments have been approved by His Excellency the Governor.—Mr. H. J. Mather to be Acting Principal Lighthouse Keeper; and Mr. F. Lopes to be Acting Assistant Lighthouse Keeper.

The American barque Mabel was towed round to Aberdeen Dock this morning. The S.S. Suez goes to Kowloon to-morrow where she will remain some time, her engines requiring extensive repairs. We also observe that the Hongkong, Macao and Canton Steamboat Company's steamer Powen is now lying at Kowloon, undergoing repairs to her engines and boilers, which will probably occupy about a fortnight.

By the Meteorological Observations taken at the Government Lock Hospital during the month of May, but not made public till issue of the Gazette on the 2nd instant, we notice that during that month there was registered a total rainfall of only 3.70 inches. The season so far as it has gone has been particularly free from rain as shown by comparative tables of the last six years. The highest rainfall during the corresponding month of these years was in 1878, when a total of 19.99 inches was registered, more than five times greater than during May of the present year.

Our American friends have followed up their Iroquois Derby success with another triumph only a little less important than the Blue Riband of the English turf. From a telegram dated London June 12th we observe that the Grand Prix de Paris, which was run for on that date, has been won by Mr. J. R. Keene's bay colt Foxhall, by King Alfonso out of Jamaica, with M. Lefevre's chestnut colt Tristan by Hermit out of Thrift, second, and Count de Lagrange's bay colt Albion, by Consul out of the Abbess, third. On referring to the list of entries for the Grand Prix in the 1880 winter edition of Ruff's Guide to the Turf, the name of Foxhall is not to be found; but this is palpably a mistake, as it is stated in the conditions of the race that there are 392 entries, whereas in going carefully through the detailed list, we can only make out 378; so that the names of 14 horses have by some error been omitted. Unfortunately for Mr. Keene his colt is not entered for the St. Leger, as we think he is a better horse than his countryman Iroquois, and should the two have come together in the Rous Memorial at Ascot we are prepared to hear that the Derby winner had to play second fiddle to the hero of the Grand Prix, although neither of the two will have much chance at weight for age with Robert the Devil, Rayon d'Or, Dresden China and Beaudesert. The wretched form of the three year olds in England this season can easily be ascertained by comparing the performance of one of the best of them, Foxhall, when pitted against a "crack" four year old, Bend Or, in the City and Suburban Handicap at Epsom. Bend Or won very easily, carrying 9st., by a length and a half from Foxhall, 6st. 8 lbs. According to Admiral Rous' scale of weight for age, a four year old in April should carry 9st. to a three year old's 7st. 9 lbs., so that Bend Or actually gave Foxhall 15 lbs. more than weight for age, and a good 10 lbs. beating. We have made this reference to satisfy an esteemed American correspondent, who considered that we had nothing to justify us in asserting that Iroquois and the other three year olds which contested the Derby; were only a lot of second raters, compared with the usual run of Derby fields. In support of our views we are prepared to wager a reasonable amount, that, in any one of the great Cup Races of the year, there will not be a single three year old successful, Thebis alone excepted, so long as Bend Or, Robert the Devil, Dresden China, or Chippendale, keep on their legs.

LATEST COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Monday, July 4th, 1881.
One o'clock P.M.

There is very little in the shape of Share transactions to report in this issue. Dock quotations are unaltered, there being sellers at 57, and buyers at 56, so that, as may easily be imagined, nothing worth noting has resulted. We can best describe the position of Banks by stating that they are quiet at 104 premium, a few sales at that figure having been booked. Sugar Shares are still on offer at 180, but there has been no rush to purchase at that price, although the Company's business is reported to be first class. The Ice Company's stock stands a trifle firmer, and a few shares have been wanted at 127½, which is a slight advance on the last recorded sale. Hotel Shares are nominally at 97½ and no transactions in other stocks have come under our notice.

Hongkong, 1st July, 1881.

Intimations.LAUDATORY NOTICE.

THE Undersigned desire to testify and make known as widely as possible among Europeans as well as Chinese, their sincere and grateful appreciation of the kindness shown to them by Messrs Graham Rowe and Company of this place during the troubles attendant upon the war between Chili and Peru; and especially of the benevolent assistance rendered by the members of that firm on the occasion of the recent calamitous fire here, in receiving many Chinese into their house for protection, and in exerting themselves to defend them from ill-disposed and lawless persons who sought to burn their dwellings and carry off their property.

In token of their heartfelt and lasting recognition of the above services this advertisement is published by

RAZORS MOST CAREFULLY RE-SET.

Mr. Moore begs to recommend his GOGO SHAMPOO WASH to the public as unrivalled by any preparation ever produced for promoting the growth of the hair. The basis of this compound is made of soap root; the natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; they are never found bald, and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By constantly using this Shampoo WASH as directed, you will never be bald. The proprietor offers the Wash to the public entirely confident that by its restorative properties it will without fail arrest decaying hair. It completely eradicates scurf, dandruff, and cures all diseases of the scalp. It does not contain any poisonous drugs. By its cooling properties it allays the itching and fever of the scalp, which is the great cause of people losing their hair.

Mr. Moore has succeeded in being able to put this wash up in bottles without allowing it to ferment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate.
